(1) The Unfair Advantage (UA) software, including Position Manager and Projectory Filter™, data and reference manual are copyrighted by Commodity Systems, Inc. ("CSI") and are protected by the copyright laws of the United States and copyright provisions of various international treaties. Exchange sources may also claim copyright protection for their respective data contributions. The effect of copyright laws and treaties is that you may not, without written permission from CSI and/or the source copyright holder, copy or distribute the printed reference manual, the software or the data; nor may you copy the substance, the look and feel, the capabilities, procedures, design, interface, use of correlation tools or mathematic formulae that are inherent in CSI products. You may not modify, adapt, translate, transfer, transmit, reproduce, publish, publicly display, publicly perform, license, rent, lease, sell, share, resell, loan, give away, distribute, network, create derivative works from, or reverse engineer the software or data or any part thereof. Before you use the software under a license, you must assign that license to one device. That device is the "licensed device". A hardware partition, virtual machine, or blade is considered to be a separate device. You may install and use one copy of the software on the licensed device. CSI grants to you (the registered licensee of the program and data) the right to make one (1) copy of the software and data for the sole purpose of backing up the system for use in case of loss or damage. Failure of a licensee to protect CSI's copyright interests will result in the revocation of this license. Users are legally responsible for all secondary copies and copies of copies of the database and software.

(2) All CSI data held locally on your computer and transmitted daily is believed to be accurate, but CSI and its suppliers do not warrant or guarantee such accuracy. You should consult a broker or authorized financial advisor or representative to verify market prices before making trades or other financial decisions. Any and all data errors reported to or detected by CSI personnel will be researched by CSI and corrections transmitted to customers on a daily download basis. Such corrections are made without notice and will affect data in the resident database held on customer computers.

(3) Some of the data supplied through UA is provided with the understanding that these statistics have entered the public domain. Should any exchange refuse to honor the existence of public domain rights and require reasonable and affordable redistribution fees, CSI will cover its obligations to the exchange. CSI will not cover fees for third party re-vending, reuse or redistribution of the data. In the event that excessive redistribution fees are imposed upon CSI, CSI may a) Prorate the added costs to existing users, b) Limit access to data released by a fee-imposing exchange, or c) Reduce coverage. CSI will promptly notify the licensee if CSI learns of a reasonable possibility that the licensee will lose access to any portion of the CSI data.

(4) The UA software and the accompanying financial database(s) are temporarily licensed, not sold, to you for use only under the terms of this License. CSI reserves the right to remotely or by mail modify software, tables, market facts, adjustments and user settings and to change the transmission format and information structure as deemed appropriate by CSI. CSI also reserves any rights not expressly granted to you. You own the DVD on which any software or data is recorded, but CSI retains ownership of all copies of the software and financial data.

CONDITIONS OF LICENSED USE – (1) For security and downloading efficiency purposes, customers should download current data with UA at least once per month. If you fail to make timely service payments, or if you cannot for any reason capture updates to the CSI database for a two-month period, you may be denied access to the database and your license to use the software and data will be revoked. If your last daily update is no further distant than two months, you may cure your disabled software by downloading current data. To resume using the licensed data after a two-month lapse, you will need to reinstall the software by downloading the link from the CSI website or using a new DVD provided by CSI. A fee for costs may apply. All data and software licensed to you are provided for your personal and private use. CSI adopts reasonable means to monitor network and data usage. Historical futures data accessing requests are monitored for license compliance. Data transferred to supported formats, spreadsheets, etc. are encoded to reveal the identity of source CSI accounts. CSI reserves the right to charge higher fees and to modify this agreement for excess data usage and for data considered to be in commercial use, as defined in subparagraph (c).
